

I am writing to voice my concern about the proposal to allow cell phone usage during all phases of flight. I believe this ruling would not only negatively affect the comfort of passengers and working crew, but would also compromise safety in many situations inflight. These interferences may include terrorist communication during highjacking attempts, crewmembers' ability to organize emergency evacuations, and the navigational systems of the aircraft.